

Class Blog

Week beginning 11.3.19

In Literacy we have been examining the book 'Snow Drop' written by the Brother's Grimm. We have analysed the language and the style. Children have used role play to explore the feelings of the characters. We have also used dialogue to convey these emotions ready for writing at the end of the week.

In Maths we have been

We have also completed our Spring assessments this week. The children have worked extremely hard, well done!